This season, these timeless metallics redefine interiors, adding a layer of depth and refinement. “Gold and brass accents introduce opulence while amplifying natural light, creating an inviting glow,” shares Aryaman Jain, CEO, Innovative Design Studio. A Nature-Inspired Approach

Spring is synonymous with Nature’s renewal, making it the ideal time to blend sustainability with luxury. A thoughtfully curated mix of botanical-printed vases, lush indoor greenery and intricately crafted stone panels creates an ambiance of effortless elegance. “Outdoor furniture made from sustainable materials pairs beautifully with handcrafted stone accents, while a tranquil water fountain completes the look, turning any space into a serene sanctuary,” explains Brijesh Bansal, founder, Stone Art.

Infuse Colour into Neutral Spaces

For those who favour a neutral base, the vibrancy of spring can be introduced through thoughtfully placed colour accents. “Statement furniture in coral, mustard or mint green instantly uplifts interiors,” notes Vivek Agarwal, co-founder, Maanavi Homes. Whether it’s an upholstered ottoman, a sculptural accent chair or sleek consoles in tropical hues, these pieces add a dynamic yet refined touch. Netizens slam Kuldeep Yadav for slapping Rinku Singh after DCvsKKR clash in IPL2025: 'Completely unacceptable behaviour'

By Samarth Goyal

Apr 30, 2025 11:34 AM IST

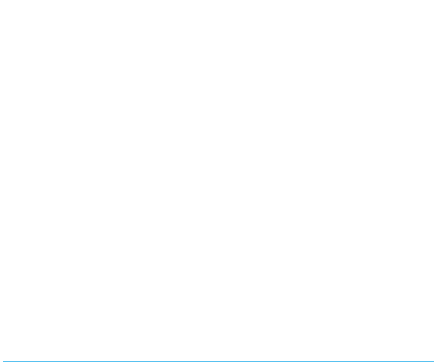

Kuldeep, Rinku, and a few others were seen talking when Kuldeep suddenly slapped Rinku, after which the KKR batter was visibly stunned and uncomfortable.

A clip of Kuldeep Yadav slapping Rinku Singh has gone viral online

A viral video featuring Delhi Capitals' (DC) spinner Kuldeep Yadav slapping Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) batter Rinku Singh twice after their IPL 2025 clash has sparked major backlash online. The incident took place moments after the match at Delhi's Arun Jaitley Stadium on Tuesday, where the home side suffered a 14-run defeat—its second consecutive loss on home turf.

In the clip which has gone viral, Kuldeep, Rinku, and a few other players are seen standing together and conversing after the game. Without any warning, Kuldeep slaps Rinku on the cheek. Rinku appears visibly surprised and slightly embarrassed by the act. Moments later, Kuldeep slaps him again, prompting an immediate reaction from Rinku, who then seems to say something to his India teammate. The interaction ends there, but the clip has since spread rapidly across social media platforms.

While the video contains no audio and the context of the exchange remains unclear, fans were quick to react with outrage. Many took to various social media platforms to call out Kuldeep's behavior, labelling it inappropriate and demanding accountability. Some users even urged the BCCI to step in, with a section of the netizens calling for disciplinary action or a possible ban on the player.

Commentators and broadcasters chose not to address the moment during the post-match discussion, further fueling public frustration. With the incident being caught on live television and amplified by fan uploads, the backlash only grew louder as the clip continued to circulate.

The controversy comes at a crucial juncture for Delhi Capitals. The team, which was just two wins away from securing a playoffs berth, has now slipped to fourth in the points table after back-to-back losses—first to Royal Challengers Bengaluru (RCB), and now to KKR.

As of now, there has been no official statement from either Kuldeep Yadav, Rinku Singh, or their respective franchises.

Reels Meet Ritual: Why is Gen Z Heading for Char Dham

By Navya Sharma

Apr 30, 2025 10:00 AM IST

As Char Dham Yatra begins on Akshaya Tritiya (today), a younger generation reimagines the pilgrimage — seeking spirituality and soul-searching in equal measure

Millennials and Gen Z travellers are swapping party trails for pilgrimage paths.

Once seen as a journey for the devout elderly, the Char Dham Yatra — a pilgrimage to the sacred shrines of Yamunotri, Gangotri, Kedarnath and Badrinath in Uttarakhand — is now experiencing a youthquake. This year, the Yatra kicks off on April 30 (today), with Yamunotri and Gangotri opening on Akshaya Tritiya, followed by Kedarnath on May 2 and Badrinath on May 4.

Millennials and Gen Z travellers are swapping party trails for pilgrimage paths, trading digital burnout for spiritual reset — and yes, they're taking their ring lights with them.

A new wave of pilgrims

Call it wanderlust with a soul. The shift in travel motivations is being fuelled by better infrastructure, social media storytelling and a yearning for something deeper than selfies. According to IXIGO, a significant 50% of Kumbh Mela attendees in 2025 were under 30 — 26% of them between 20 and 25 — indicating a growing interest in spirituality among younger Indians.

For Vedansh Khuranna, 24, a Chandigarh-based analyst heading to Kedarnath this season, the pilgrimage is personal: “There’s a pull I can’t explain. It’s not just religious — it’s personal. My friends and I have planned the trek to Kedarnath, and we’re excited about documenting every bit of it, but more than that, we’re looking forward to disconnecting from city chaos and just being in those mountains.”
